Holsteins Purchased.

The State Board of Control has sent Mr. James H. Reed, steward of the Eastern Kentucky Asylum, to Cleveland, O., accompanied by the farmer, John Mays, for the first consignment of Holstein-Frisian cattle to be installed at the several institutions. It is the intention of the board finally to have only Holsteins, except Hopkinsville, where there is now one of the finest herds of Jerseys in the State. The present herds are now producing more milk than many of the dairies. The object in securing the Holsteins is partially because of the quality of milk. By chemical analysis it has been demonstrated that it is the best milk for invalids. There is hardly a single charitable institution north of the Ohio but has Holstein cattle exclusively.

DEATHS.

—John B. Panye, 41 years old, who for seven years had been Magistrate of the Second district of Lexington, and one of the most active and influential figures in politics in that city, died Saturday morning at 10:30 o'clock of heart failure.

—Miss Lona John, of Covington, aged 27 years, died at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon at the boarding house of Mr. Gilbert Thompson, on High street. The cause of her death was the breaking of a blood vessel of the brain.

Her sister, Mrs. Dr. McMillan, of Covington was here and accompanied the remains to Covington for burial.

—Mrs. L. A. Montgomery, of Sumpter, S. C., died Wednesday afternoon at Mt. Vernon, Ga., where she was visiting her son. She was aged about 80 years, and leaves seven children, among them Mr. Hugh Montgomery, of this city. On account of the illness of Mr. Montgomery's wife and sister-in-law, Miss Emma P. Scott, he was unable to attend the funeral.

—Charles H. Cox, Cashier of the Farmers' National Bank, at Cynthia, died at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Cox, on Pike street, Cynthia Sunday night at eight o'clock, after several weeks' illness of typhoid fever. He was about 38 years of age and has been with the Farmers' Bank for 20 years, was a member of the Elks' Lodge and one of the most popular young men of that city.

—Judge James L. Cogar, one of Woodford county's best known and most prominent citizens, a resident of Midway for nearly 50 years died at his home in that city Saturday morning after a brief illness, having been confined to his bed only a short time.

He had not been in good health for some months, having a peculiar affection in one of his feet, from which he suffered constantly. But notwithstanding this trouble and the fact that he had always suffered more or less pain, he was able to be at his office attending to his various duties until about 10 days ago, since which time he has been growing steadily worse.

He was 63 years old and at one time resided in Bourbon county. He was an uncle of Squire L. J. Fretwell, of this city.

—Mr. George F. Hardman, a prominent Bourbon county farmer, died Saturday morning at his home near Clintontown, of a complication of diseases. Mr. Hardman was a native of Montgomery county in his seventeenth year. From Montgomery county he moved to Winchester and read law under the late John B. Houston. His health failing he returned to Agricultural pursuits and located in Bourbon nine years ago.

Mr. Hardman was twice married, his second wife, formerly Miss Bettie McDonald, of Clintontown, and two sons, Alex. Hardman and Barnes Hardman, surviving.

The funeral services took place at the residence Sunday morning at 11 o'clock and conducted by Rev. G. W. Bell and Rev. Wm. Cummings, of Winchester. The interment in the Winchester cemetery.

The active pall bearers were Garrett Weathers, J. F. McDonald, W. W. Haley, Hume Clay, G. P. Fry and J. W. Ballard, and the honorary pallbearers Col. Holloway, Henry Gillispie, John Marshall, J. W. Poynter, B. F. Curtis and G. W. Hardman.

—Mrs. Sue Redmon, widow of the late George Redmon, of the North Middletown precinct, died Sunday in the 70th year of her age. Mrs. Redmon was a most excellent Christian woman. She is survived by two sons—Squire J. J. Redmon, of this county, and G. Lee Redmon, of Louisville. The funeral will take place at the Christian church in North Middletown, today (Tuesday) Jan. 19th, at 10:30 o'clock, a. m. Services will be conducted by Elder C. W. Dick, assisted by Elder J. W. Ligon.

Active pall-bearers—C. H. Meng, H. S. Caywood, Dr. R. C. Weaver, Wm. McCray, J. S. Talbott, J. C. Bryan, John T. Collins. Honorary pall-bearers—Dr. B. E. Bean, Ed. Rice, R. M. Rice and E. K. Thomas.

Georgetown Declared Dry.

Georgetown was declared dry Saturday by the Local Option Contest Board, consisting of Judge J. J. Yates and Magistrate Eugene Rucker and W. H. Johnson, by a vote of two to one, Judge Yates opposing the action taken by his colleagues and filing a protest against the decision because of the counting of the vote of Charles Hoffman, Jr.

The local option election at Georgetown was held in July and on the face of the returns the town went wet by two votes. The election commissioners, however, threw out certain ballots which were protested because they were shown, and decided the vote a tie, which, under the statute, gave the dries the victory.

It appears that, while young Hoffman made affidavit to the dries that he had voted wet, he also made affidavit to the attorney for the wets that while he had intended to vote wet he had put his stencil mark in the column marked "No," which ordinarily would have meant wet, but by the change of position and wording either by the printer or someone else, the usual positions were reversed on the ballot.

The two Judges threw out Hoffman's vote as a wet vote. Starting with a tie vote as returned by the election commissioners, this would make the result in Georgetown dry by two votes, with one of these protested by one Judge. The decision will be written up in form and the case will go to the Court of Appeals.

It Has Come!

We knew it was coming but it arrived somewhat earlier than we expected. The Philadelphia North American has discovered, now that the election is over, that there is to be no tariff revision in the interests of the general public. In an editorial entitled "The Tariff Farce" the North American says:

"The tariff hearing by the Ways and Means Committee at Washington have progressed far enough to justify the North American's view that they are dishonest pretension. Cannon, Payne, Dalzell, Fordney and others of the inner circle of the reactionaries are deceiving no one in their effort to make a farce and falsify the pledge for scientific and equitable tariff revision upon which Taft stood and the national ticket was elected. [Cannon proclaims himself a tariff revisionist. He does so in these words: 'If I live, I am going, so far as my vote is concerned, to see to it that the policy of the Republican party on this question is written in the national laws as promptly as possible. The laws should be written promptly, so that business can adjust itself to changed conditions, for the change will of necessity bring disturbance.' Which means that an evasive and deceptive hodge-podge is to be rushed through to passage, without regard to the needs of the consuming public or the legitimate business interests if Cannon preserves his old-time power to 'see to it' in behalf of the trusts. It is to be called the Payne bill, we hear. And the godfatherhood of Seneca C. Payne is sufficient surety that the product will be a freak and a changeling." Is the Philadelphia North American really so simple as it pretends? It might have known that the fatherhood of the Republican party, so far as a tariff revision measure is concerned, would be "sufficient surety that the product will be a freak and changeling."

A Rare Occurrence.

The choosing of a capital for a nation is of rare occurrence but when the step becomes necessary it is by no means easy and generally causes friction. This country wrestled with the question for quite a time and nearly half a century ago Canada had the same experience. The Commonwealth of Australia have just settled upon their capital after a good deal of heart burning, and in so doing have followed the American precedent of selecting a tract of land which shall bear the same relation to the other states of the Commonwealth as the District of Columbia does to the various states of the Union. It is said that in every particular the tract chosen is admirably adapted for its purpose. Now the Australians are uncertain what name to give it.

If the "standpatters" can manage to keep up this clatter about the secret service long enough they may be able to stave off tariff revision.

The Year of Genius.

This is the centenary of what has been well called, "The Year of Genius," and the anniversary of the birth of the distinguished men who first saw the light in the memorable year of our Lord, 1808, will be fittingly observed during the next twelve months. Considering the smallness of the population of this country a hundred years ago, it is remarkable what a number of Americans, who achieved world-wide distinction, were born in that year.

Ever Notice It?

Did you ever see a short man walking with a tall lady and trying to manipulate an umbrella so as to keep both of them from getting wet? If you haven't you have overlooked a sight distinctly worth the price of admission. She humps down and tries to show him that she doesn't really consider herself above him, while he reaches as high as possible in the most ambitious way. If he happens to get the Regenschirm entangled with her Merry Widow it's sad, but can't be helped, and if he drips a few gallons, more or less, of the icy fluid down her back she has to smile and pretend that it was merely exhilarating. And the only solution of the problem--to let her carry the umbrella--never seems to occur to them.

The Tramp Problem.

New York is going to try to settle the tramp problem by the establishment of farm colonies in which tramps will be set to work. The attempt will be watched by other states with sympathetic interest for the tramp is a nuisance and a menace to society everywhere. Too lazy to work and generally so devoid of principle that he does not hesitate to steal, not only does it mean half million of drones tramping up and down the country with all the loss of protecting society against him enormous.

John Hays Hammond has been selected to steer [presidential] patronage southward with a view of landing a few Southern States in the Republican column in 1912. John is going to experience difficulty with his tiller ropes.

Put Them in the Ananias Club.

Taking the floor with the avowed intention of "placing both Attorney General Bonaparte and Postmaster General Meyer in the Ananias Club," Senator Tillman yesterday addressed the Senate. He alternated between an acrid denunciation of these two members of the President's cabinet and ridicule which he hurled at them in shrill tones that reverberated throughout the Senate Chamber and at times could be heard in the adjoining corridors.

What Ails You?

Do you feel weak, tired, despondent,
have frequent headaches, coated tongue,
bitter or bad taste in morning, "heartburn," belching of gas, acid risings in throat after eating, stomach gnaw or burn, foul breath, dizzy spells, poor or variable appetite, nausea at times and kindred symptoms?

If you have any considerable number of the above symptoms you are suffering from biliousness, rapid liver with indigestion, and distress. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is made up of the most valuable medicinal principles known to medical science for the permanent cure of such abnormal conditions. It is a most efficient liver invigorator, stomach tonic, bowel regulator and nerve strengthener.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" is not a patent medicine or secret nostrum, a full list of its ingredients being printed on its bottle-wrapper and attested under oath. A glance at its formula will show that it contains no alcohol, or harmful habit-forming drugs. It is a fluid extract made with pure, triple-refined glycerine, of proper strength, from the roots of the following native American forest plants, viz., Golden Seal root, Stone root, Black Cherrybark, Queen's root, Bloodroot, and Mandrake root.

The following leading medical authorities, among a host of others, extol the foregoing roots for the cure of just such ailments as the above symptoms indicate: Prof. R. Bartholow,
M. D., of Jefferson Med. College, Phila.; Prof.
H. C. Wood, M. D., of Univ. of Pa.; Prof. Edwin
M. Hale, M. D., of Hahnemann Med. College, Chicago; Prof. John King, M. D., Author of American Dispensatory; Prof. Jno. M. Scudder, M. D., Author of Specific Medicines; Prof.
Laurence Johnson, M. D., Med. Dept. Univ. of N. Y.; Prof. Finley Ellingwood, M. D., Author of Materia Medica and Prof. in Bennett Medical College, Chicago. Send name and address on postal card to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., and receive free booklet giving extracts from writings of all the above medical authorities and many others endorsing, in the strongest possible terms, each and every ingredient of which "Golden Medical Discovery" is composed.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels. They may be used in conjunction with "Golden Medical Discovery" if bowels are much constipated. They're tiny and sugar-coated.

The New Cuban Congress.

Although the reins of self-government will not be officially turned over to the Cuban authorities until January 28, when the inauguration of President
Jose Miguel Gomez and Vice president Alfredo Zayas will take place, the meeting Wednesday of the New Cuban Congress in initial session marked the beginning of the end of the second period of American intervention in the island, which began with the breaking out of the revolution in August, 1906.
Bills establishing cock fighting and a national lottery will be among the first to be introduced. The Liberal party, which has an overwhelming majority in the Senate and the House, is said to favor the lottery, and its members are only announcing that a bill providing for cock fighting will be one of the first measures to be introduced. The party also favors a liberal educational programme, a law providing for the arbitration of the disputes between capital and labor and the appointment of a commission to revise the tariff.
The Conservative membership of each house is only sufficient to cover the constitutional requirements that there be a minority party. There is little difference, however, in the principles of the two parties.

Mind Your Business!

If you don't nobody will. It is your business to keep out of all the trouble you can and you can and will keep out of liver and bowel trouble if you take Dr. King's New Life Pills. They keep biliousness, and Jaundice out of your system. 25c at Oberdorfer's drug

Tillman Within the Law.

Senators who have given consideration to the demand made by Senator Tillman for an investigation by the Senate of the charges made by President Roosevelt in connection with the Senator's attempt to procure Oregon lands incline to the opinion that there is no question before the Senate for an inquiry, except as to whether Mr. Tillman was frank with his colleagues in discussing the case. The opinion is held generally that even if the charges made by the President were true the act of Mr. Tillman was not a violation of law. No member of the Committee on Privileges and Elections is inclined to present a resolution calling for one,
and if one is introduced it is likely that Senator Tillman himself will be the author. His friends, however, are determined to advise him against insistence upon his request for an inquiry.

—Large crowds have attended the protracted meeting at the Presbyterian church during the past week despite the weather. Rev. J. Addison Smith is a scholar and thinker, possessing a large vocabulary, an ardent student who has traveled and read much, a wide range of thought and knows how to put it in words so as to make it interesting to his hearers. He is a man of magnetic force and when you hear him once you want to hear him again even though you may not agree with him in all his arguments, besides he gives out interesting subjects, which to the thinker, gives rise to much speculation before they hear his exposition of it. He was greeted Sunday morning and evening with large audiences which taxed all the available space in the Presbyterian church. The meeting will continue for some days longer.

Dangerous.

Nature is a good physician who causes trouble when her medicine is adulterated.

New Political Issue.

The action of Governor Willson in appointing a commission for the purpose of drafting a revenue bill to be presented to the Legislature has brought about an issue which has divided the Republican official family and wiped out much of the disaffection in the Democratic party of the State.

Former Governor Beckham and his friends have come out squarely against the enactment of a new revenue law, and declare that the efforts behind the present movement emanate from the source which fathered the constitutional amendment looking to the adoption of a license system in cities instead of an ad valorem system, and gave rise to the adoption of a municipal ordinance in the city of Louisville, which was declared unconstitutional.

The breach in Governor Willson's official family is in the opposition of State Auditor Frank E. James, who has to deal with the State's revenues. State Treasurer Edward Parley is reported in sympathy with James' position.

Thus the Governor finds two of the members of his Cabinet, who have been dealing with the operation of the revenue laws of the State, opposed to the movement, which is the most vital that he has undertaken in his administration.

Will Ride in Autos.

The next President of the United States is to pin his faith to the automobile. That became known when the House Committee on Appropriations included in the urgent deficiency appropriation bill an item of $12,000 for the purchase and maintenance of automobiles for the White House. It was explained that Judge Taft had intimated that he would use automobiles during his occupancy of the White House. The entire amount carried in the bill is $1,025,602. Of this amount $400,000 is for the suppression of the foot and mouth disease among cattle.

Suit Against Night Riders.

Damages in the sum of $50,000 are asked in a suit filed in the United States Court at Paducah, Saturday, by C. W. Rucker, of Metropolis, Ill., against 210 alleged night riders. The majority of the defendants are residents of Lyon county, and many of them are prominent in Western Kentucky. The plaintiff was Police Judge of Eddyville when he claims the defendants compelled him to walk barefooted to the Cumberland River in his night clothes, where they beat him unmercifully with clubs.

No Rivers and Harbors Bill.

There will be no rivers and harbors bill this season beyond an emergency measure to continue and protect work now under way. The committee decided by a majority of one to have a bill, whereupon Chairman Burton, who has always dominated his committee, declared he would not frame a bill. A second vote was taken and Representative Taylor, of Alabama, changed his vote to no and thus decided that there would be no rivers and harbors legislation this year. The proposed bill will carry not to exceed $10,000,000.

Catching a Tartar.

A Pennsylvania trout fisherman had an adventure which is a warning to thoughtless persons. He was in his boat, casting his flies, when he saw something swimming across the creek several rods up stream. He thought it was a mink, but when it got within a couple of yards he saw it was a wildcat. Without stopping to think he cast his line toward the animal and the next instant regretted his hasty action. The hook caught in the cat's ears, and it promptly turned and swam toward the boat. He paddled away, but the cat overtook the boat and proceeded to climb in. The fisherman knocked the animal on the head with the paddle, and the movement capsize the boat. Then there was a fight in the water, and the fisherman defended himself so well with the paddle that he was able to reach the shore. The wildcat followed, but a few well directed blows finished it. There was a two dollar bounty on the animal, but as the fisherman lost all his fishing tackle and had his clothing badly torn he thinks he had the worst of the bargain. At any rate, he will never again fish for a wildcat.

Philadelphia Flier of 1737.

In these days of fast trains we can hardly conceive how the newspaper announcement made March 10, 1737, that a "flier" would begin flying on 3d April to perform the journey between New York and Philadelphia in one day" could have created a great sensation—even in Philadelphia. Eighty miles in fourteen hours does not seem to us such breathless speed, but when we read in the same paper that in order to accomplish this feat "John Butler, with his waggons, must needs set out from the sign of the Death of the Fox at daybreak and drive at top speed (the horses being changed at each stage ere the coach stops rocking) to meet the ferry of Rubin Fitzrandolph, which delivers passengers in New York by night."

We can understand that for those leisurely times this was indeed "going some." This, at least, was the opinion of a traveler who performed this journey in 1737, for he writes home, "And if any one wishes to travel more quickly let him go to Kentucky and charter a streak of lightning."

The Dazzling Searchlight.

On a dark night no warship would be safe from torpedo attack but for the searchlight. The full moon lights up a torpedo boat so that it can be fired at when nearly a mile away. To produce the same illumination with the most powerful artificial light an electric arc of 100,000 candle power placed three-quarters of a mile high would be needed if the aid of mirrors were not available. But with this light and an ingenious arrangement of mirrors it is possible to surpass the moon. Searchlights are now made which throw light a distance of sixty-three miles, but objects can be seen only a few miles from the source of the light. The effect on the enemy is most demoralizing. When the bright beam is suddenly thrown on the eye the pupil contracts violently; when the beam is removed the eye can see nothing. If this be repeated a few times it takes all the nerve out of a man, so that only the best trained and most courageous can continue the attack.—London Answers.

Not That Color.

Willie lost his pet dog and was much distressed. He spent his time searching for it, and so often did he run into the house crying, "Come, quick; there's Fido; I saw him!" the family grew somewhat dubious.

One day Willie rushed in more excited than usual. "Mamma, mamma!" he cried. "I've seen Fido! I've seen Fido!"

"Oh, no; I guess not," replied the patient mother. "It must have been your imagination."

Willie looked at her much aggrieved. "Well," he said indignantly, "I guess my 'imagination' isn't white behind."

Dies From the Effect of Wound.

John W. Sapp, aged 26 years, died at four o'clock yesterday morning in this city from the effect of a gun-shot wound received about three months ago, and from which he suffered a stroke of paralysis that effected him from his waist down.

On Sunday, October 25, Sapp, in company with some companions, was hunting with dogs on the farm of M. B. Lovell, near town. After being ordered off the place, Sapp and his companions, it is said, went out to the road when they were approached by Delaney, who was at the time in the employ of the Lovell dairy, and it is alleged began abusing them for trespassing on the farm.

To this Sapp and his companions replied that they were off the place and that he had no cause whatever to abuse them, whereupon Delaney raised his gun to his shoulder and fired, the shot taking effect in Sapp's neck. He was hurriedly brought to town to a physician, and an effort made to locate the bullet, but without avail.

After several local physicians had attempted to locate the ball, which was without result, Sapp was taken to the St. Joseph Hospital, in Lexington, where an X-ray examination was made, but the bullet could not be found. It was then that paralysis was evident and that no amount of medical attention would be of any benefit other than to prolong his life for a few weeks.

After the shooting the Delaney boy was arrested and placed under bond to appear for his examining trial, but the condition of Sapp was such that the trial was postponed until the outcome of the shooting could be determined.

Does the Baby Thrive

If not, something must be wrong with its food. If the mother's milk doesn't nourish it, she needs Scott's Emulsion. It supplies the elements of fat required for the baby. If baby is not nourished by its artificial food, then it requires

SCOTT'S EMULSION

Half a teaspoonful three or four times a day in its bottle will have the desired effect. It seems to have a magical effect upon babies and children. A fifty-cent bottle will prove the truth of our statements.

Met Unnatural Death.

The Chinese Reform Association, having headquarters at New York, received a lengthy cipher cablegram Wednesday from Hong Kong, confirming the statement that the late Emperor of China had met an unnatural death. The dispatch states that before the late Emperor Dowager's death, the question of choosing an heir presumptive was pending.

Beware of Frequent Colds.

A succession of colds or a protracted cold is almost certain to end in chronic catarrh, from which few persons ever wholly recover. Give every cold the attention it deserves and you may avoid this disagreeable disease. How can you cure a cold? Why not try Chamberlain's Cough Remedy? It is highly recommended. Mrs. M. White, of Butler, Tenn., says: "Several years ago I was bothered with my throat and lungs. Someone told me of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I began using it and it relieved me at once. Now my throat and lungs are sound and well." For sale by W. T. Brooks. You need no other guarantee. Dec

Poultry Toilets.

"Now we will make this white hen's toilet."
And the pet stock dealer laid beside a small bathtub a box of cold cream, a bottle of brilliantine, a couple of brushes, a chamois, towels and soap. He bathed the hen in the tub. He scrubbed her feathers till they were snowy. Then he towelled her, wrapped her up and put her away in a warm box.

"Tomorrow," he said, "after she is quite dry I'll rub brilliantine on one of these brushes and polish her coat till it shines like satin. I'll oil and polish her feet too. Her face and wattles I'll rub well with cold cream—that will deepen and enrich the color, the bloom. Altogether, when I'm done with her she'll be as smooth and shiny and immaculate as a new silk hat or a well laundered white evening shirt.

"For exhibitions chickens have these elaborate toilets always—much more elaborate ones sometimes. In certain breeds I have seen the leg feathers being curled with an electric iron by one."—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

First Giraffe in Europe.

Dr. Johnson, as is well known, refused for many months to believe in the Lisbon earthquake, and Parisians formerly were just as skeptical as to the existence of the giraffe, a new specimen of which has just been added to the Jardin des Plantes. The earliest specimen of these gentle creatures was seen in Paris in the reign of Louis XVI. We learn from a French contemporary that the giraffe was first heard of in 1787, when it was described by a Frenchman named Levaillant, who had journeyed in the lands of the Hottentots and Kaffirs. When the explorer referred to the animals with the long necks he was looked upon as a Munchausen and told that he was such in not the politest language. It was only when some living specimens arrived in the French capital that Levaillant's reputation for veracity was re-established, and then the animals for a long time formed the sensation of Paris, not only among the multitude, but in all scientific circles.—London Globe.

"The Light That Failed."

A wealthy Riverina squatter, now departed, as he used to phrase it, "to the great muster," was noted almost as much for his Attic wit as for his parsimony. He also stuttered very badly and helped along his halting utterance with a frequent ejaculation of "D'ye see? D'ye see?" His niggardly traits gained him widespread local unpopularity and the bitter enmity of sundowners, who were always vigorously refused rations at his stations.

Smarting under this unusual inhospitality, some disappointed swaggers once set fire to one of the squatter's wool sheds and then wrote upon a gate: "We've well burnt down your wool shed. D'ye see? D'ye see?" Of course it caught the big man's eye when next he passed through. For a moment he contemplated the announcement and then with a sardonic grin took the stump of a blue pencil from his pocket and scribbled underneath: "It was well insured. D'ye see? D'ye see?"—London Standard.

Electricity and Magnetism.

As to what electricity and magnetism are "in themselves"—that is to say, as to their real nature—nothing is known. They are absolute mysteries, baffling the acutest research into their innermost secrets. But about their modes of action it is possible to say something definite. For example, electricity appears to depend for its action upon a medium, while magnetism, like gravity, acts at a distance and by means of no visible go-between. Place two magnets in vacuo or even place a solid plate of glass or metal or wood between the magnets and we still find that their mutual action depends solely on their relative position and is not perceptibly modified by placing any substance between them unless that substance happens to be one of the magnetic metals.—New York American.

Ursa Major and Ursa Minor.

A pretty myth is told of Callisto and her son in connection with Ursa Major and Ursa Minor. Juno changed the beautiful Callisto into a bear, who, seeing her son one day, advanced to embrace him, when he, not knowing his mother in the form of a bear, was about to thrust his spear through her, to prevent which Jupiter snatched them both up to heaven and placed them among the stars as the Great and Little Bears.

All One Kind.

"What did father say when you told him of our engagement?" asked the young lady.
"Well—or—really, Phyllis," began the ineligible young man.
"Oh, leave out the strong language."
"Then there's nothing to tell you."

Probably Not.

"Baseball," maintained the dogmatic citizen, "is very ancient. Baseball games were probably going on at the time of the flood."

"Do you suppose they gave rain checks?" inquired the facetious citizen with irritating levity.—Exchange.

Declining.

"Miss Frocks has reached her declining years," said Jones.
"Nonsense," replied Brown. "She's not more than twenty-five."
"But she has declined half a dozen men."

The "Leading Heavy."

"What's the matter now?"
"We're playin' circus parade, an' Willie's a-belin' the elephant an' the lion an' the hippopotamus an' the calliope, an' it ain't fair!"—Life.

"Is J. Pierpont Morgan a sucker?" queries the Omaha World-Herald.
Well, J. Pierpont seems to have soaked up a lot, at any rate.

Good Cough Medicine for Children.

The season for coughs and colds is now at hand and too much care cannot be used to protect the children. A child is much more likely to contract diphtheria or scarlet fever when he has a cold. The quicker you cure his cold the less the risk. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is the sole reliance of many mothers, and few of those who have tried it are willing to use any other. Mrs. P. F. Starcher, of Ripley, W. Va., says, "I have never used anything other than Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for my children and it has always given good satisfaction." This remedy contains no opium or other narcotic and may be given as confidently to a child as to an adult. For sale by W. T. Brooks. You need no other guarantee.

Mr. Burton is not the only one to be congratulated because Charles P. Taft withdrew from the Ohio Senatorial race. William H. Taft is entitled to a full measure of congratulations.

Seven Years of Proof.

"I have had seven years of proof that Dr. King's New Discovery is the best medicine to take for coughs and colds and for every diseased condition of the throat, chest or lungs," says W. V. Henry, of Panama, Mo. "The world has had thirty-eight years of proof that Dr. King's New Discovery is the best remedy for coughs and colds, la grippe, asthma, hay fever, bronchitis, hemorrhage of the lungs, and the early stages of consumption. Its timely use always prevents the development of pneumonia. Sold under guarantee at Oberdorfer's drug store. 50c per bottle and $1. Trial bottle free.

A few months ago stricken San Francisco was asking for help. The other day San Francisco cabled $60,000 to the Italian earthquake sufferers. Those who have suffered can sympathize.

Bulldozing Tactics, Says Willson.

Gov. Willson thinks the local option people are trying to bulldoze him into calling an extra session of the Legislature to consider the County Unit Bill and he says they will not be able to do it.

"The Governor of Kentucky cannot be bulldozed," said he, "and the people who are making the charges that I dealt with the liquor people before the election or with any other element do not believe the charges. I made no promises when I was making my campaign, and came into this office free and unhampered."
"I reiterate, what said, that I do not think the Legislature should be called into extraordinary session unless there is an extraordinary need of it, and I do not think there is in this case."

Gov. Willson did not take kindly to the charges that he had dealt with the whisky element prior to his election and prepared a statement that he had intended to give to the press. This, however, he decided later not to do, because he did not have time to go over it after he had dictated it.

Watched Fifteen Years.

"For fifteen years I have watched the working of Bucklen's Arnica Salve; and it has never failed to cure any sore, boil ulcer or burn to which it was applied. It has saved us many a doctor bill," says A. F. Hardy, of East Wilton, Maine. 25c at Oberdorfer's drug store. Jan

A FAMILY SAFEGUARD

Dr. Green arranges with the Niece of Dr. Bo. The famous Uncle's Great Throat and Lung Cure.

The best family safeguard is a reliable household medicine that will cure croup, coughs, colds, chilly sensations, running eyes and nose, sore throat and bronchial affections—that will keep the children proof against all contagious diseases. Such a medicine is Boschee's German Syrup, which has a record of 35 years in the cure of consumption, catarrh and all lung and bronchial troubles. The fame of German Syrup as a consumptive cure, since its purchase by Dr. Green from the niece of the famous Dr. Boschee, has extended to all parts of the earth. It has big sales everywhere. Two sizes, 25c and 75c. All druggists.

An Unsettled Condition.

In both the near east and far east matters remain in an unsettled condition and are the cause of anxiety to other countries. In the Balkans the reassuring outlook of one day is offset the next by disquieting rumors, and as the winter is slipping by fast and no settlement of the various questions directly involving Turkey, Austria, Bulgaria and Serbia is in sight, there is grave danger of hostilities in the spring. In China the dismissal of the reform prime minister causes much uneasiness among the foreign legations inasmuch as the action betrays a reactionary sentiment which is always hostile to foreigners.

How is Your Digestion.

Mrs. Mary Dowling of No. 225 8th Ave., San Francisco, recommends a remedy for stomach trouble. She says: "Gratitude for the wonderful effect of Electric Bitters in a case of acute indigestion, prompts this testimonial. I am fully convinced that for stomach and liver troubles Electric Bitters is the best remedy on the market today." This great tonic and alternative medicine invigorates the system, purifies the blood and is especially helpful in all forms of female weakness. 50c. at Oberdorfer's drug store. Jan

Old Age Pension.

The Old Age Pension Act in England is now in operation and the first payment to successful applicants is being made this month. There are so many conditions attached that by no means everyone that reaches the age limit and applies for a pension is successful. Necessary as these conditions may be they nevertheless cause considerable disappointment and some dissatisfaction, but on the whole the measure is popular and it will doubtless brighten the lot of many an old person who otherwise would continue in poverty. The working of the act is being watched with keen interest by other countries.

F. R. PHILLIPS
& Company,

Selling "Carlyle."

Here is Whistler's story of how he sold his famous picture of Carlyle to the Glasgow Corporation:

I received them, well, you know, charmingly, of course, and one who spoke for the rest asked me if I did not think I was putting a large price on the picture—1,000 guineas—and I said, "Yes, perhaps, if you will have it so!"

And he said that it seemed to the council excessive. "Why, the figure was not even life size."

And I agreed. "But, you know," I said, "few men are life size."

And that was all. It was an official occasion, and I respected it. Then they asked me to think over the matter until the next day, and they would come again. And they came. And they said, "Have you thought of the thousand guineas and what we said about it, Mr. Whistler?"

And I said, "Why, gentlemen, why—well, you know, how could I think of anything but the pleasure of seeing you again?"

And naturally, being gentlemen, they understood, and they gave me a check for the thousand guineas.

The Southern Art of Conversation.

The north may think it knows something of conversation, but the north, as compared with the south, may be said never to have enjoyed a conversation. About the village courthouse, within the hospitable doors of some central store, in the office of the local daily or weekly paper or, above all, in the leisurely and genial intercourse around the fireside or on the inviting porch in summer of friend with friends there will be heard a conversation which in wit, in the charm and force of its illustrations and in the directness and freedom of its criticism is not surpassed in American life today.

It is the product of leisure, of a world without haste, without ruthless preoccupations, without those resources of expression and interest which belong to the crowded and overweighed existence of the commercial city. It is, moreover, part of the tradition of the cavalier. It is part of the genius of climate and soil and social habit.—E. G. Murphy in "The Present South."

Sour Milk Cow.

The woman was new to the country, and her host took great pains to explain to her whatever she didn't understand about the farm. He had little regard for the truth, this farmer; he delighted to test her gullibility to the utmost.

The cows seemed to interest her more than any other domestic animal. One of the cows had lost her tail somehow, and this fact led the woman to ask why it was.

"That's the sour milk cow," the farmer explained, with a straight face. "We always cut the tail off one cow in the herd so as to get sour milk fresh every day."

The woman looked her doubt.

"It's perfectly true," the farmer insisted. "You see, when the cow's tail is gone the sun shines continually on the cow's udder, and the constant heat sours the milk."

But the woman still doubted.—New York Sun.

Few Buried Alive.

"It might be incidentally mentioned for the relief of anxious souls," says Dr. Woods Hutchinson in the American Magazine, "that the risk of any individual passing into a trance and remaining in it long enough to be buried alive is exceedingly slight. There is no authentic instance of this having ever occurred. I took occasion to investigate this question some years ago and communicated with a number of leading undertakers, and they all unanimously denounced it as one of the myths of the times. One of them, at the time president of the National Funeral Directors' association, informed me that he had carefully investigated every instance of 'burial alive' reported in the newspapers for fifteen years past and found every one of them to be, in his own language, 'a pure fake.'"

Legs and the Alps.

In the visitors' book of one of the Swiss hotels an observing traveler has inscribed the following lines:

Some dashing young tourists, I see,
Wear trousers which end at the knee.
'Twere better by half
Just to cover the calf—
At least where the calf ought to be.

Only those who have seen the scrawny legs, incased in mountain climbing costume, of some of those tourists who "do" the Alps can fully appreciate the humor of the "limerick."

Nuts as Food.

One very great advantage which nuts possess over most foods is their absolute freedom from adulteration. When you buy nuts you always know what you are getting. Of course those bought in the shell are also absolutely clean.—Good Health.

Light and Hope.

Even in evil, that dark cloud which hangs over the creation, we discern rays of light and hope and gradually come to see in suffering and temptation proofs and instruments of the sublimest purposes of wisdom and love.—Channing.

At His Expense.

She—Jack told me that that hospital was built entirely at his expense. Is it possible? He—Well, Jack's uncle cut him off with a hundred dollars and left the rest of his money to build the hospital.

How many think to atone for the evil they have done by the good they intend to do and are only virtuous in prospect!—Elliot.

—A novel experiment will be made next fall by Commissioner of Agriculture M. C. Rankin in the sowing of alfalfa, which he believes will be the hay of Kentucky in ten years. He has purchased two bushels of Kentucky grown alfalfa seed, which he will sow in his corn while giving it the last plowing next fall. This is a little later than alfalfa is usually sown but he feels the result will be worthy of the experiment.

—The two-days sale of horses and mules which just closed at Flemingsburg, conducted by the Fleming Horse and Mule Company, resulted in a very satisfactory sale. Quite a number of foreign buyers attended the sale and the 175 head of horses and mules were sold brought, in the aggregate, over $26,000 and averaged over $150 per head. The highest priced horse sold was a stallion, King Tom, which brought $500. One team of horses sold for $600, while quite a number were sold for more than $200 each. The sales are to be held monthly, this being the first.

Hains Acquitted.

Thornton J. Hains was Friday acquitted of the charge of murder in the first degree, which grew out of the killing of William E. Annis at the Bayside Yacht Club, August 15, 1908. Hains stood guard over his brother, Capt. Peter C. Hains, Jr., while the latter shot down Annis, but did not participate in the shooting. His brother, Capt. Hains, has not yet been put on trial.

Offer to Colonize 5,000 Italians.

Duke Delite, owner of vast estates in Florida, declared Friday that he would make a colonization offer to 5,000 earthquake sufferers. "I will give 5,000 families two farms each in Florida on condition that they farm one piece of land for themselves and one for me." The Duke is an Italian of great wealth.

The Campbell Murder Case.

A special venire of one hundred men from Clark county are summoned to appear today in the Fayette Circuit Court. It is the case of W. R. Campbell, formerly Republican candidate for City Councilman, who is charged with shooting to death Policeman Michael Murphy, at Lexington, in an election day fight in November, 1907. Campbell is the Chief of Police and a Police Sergeant of Covington.

Will Celebrate Golden Wedding.

The Rev. Dr. Henry M. Scudder, for about forty years pastor of the Presbyterian church at Carlisle and Elizaville, and Mrs. Scudder will, on Tuesday, February 2, celebrate their golden wedding. As yet invitations have not been issued, but will be in the course of a short time. A reception will be tendered Dr. and Mrs. Scudder by the ladies of the Presbyterian church in the parlors of the church in Carlisle. Dr. Scudder is one of the oldest residents of that city and one of the foremost ministers in the Presbyterian church in Kentucky. He is a graduate of Center College in the famous class of which United States Senator James B. McCreary, United States Senator W. J. Stone and former Governors T. T. Crittenden and David R. Francis, of Missouri, and the late Col. W. C. P. Breckinridge were members.

Oil Trust Must Pay.

The Supreme Court of the United States yesterday affirmed the decree of the State Courts of Texas, imposing a fine of $1,023,000 on the Waters-Pierce Oil Company of St. Louis and ousting it from the State on the charge of violating the Texas anti-trust laws.

Burley in Virginia.

John L. Wingo, ex-President of the Richmond (Va.) Tobacco Association, and one of the best informed tobacco men in Virginia, speaking of the burley situation, makes the following statement:

"In two counties of Virginia burley seeds were sown this year, and the reports show that burley tobacco of good quality, color and flavor can be successfully raised and be disposed of to good advantage to the farmer. One of these crops was raised in Orange county and is of from 8,000 to 10,000 pounds, all of which will compare favorably with that grown in the best burley section of Kentucky. This crop will be sold in Richmond during the month of January, and I am sure, will receive the attention of all the city manufacturers, particularly those interested in burley tobacco."

"There is no doubt that all that section from which this tobacco comes and other parts of the State are well adapted to the growth of burley tobacco."

Weather Indications.

Cloudy today with slowly rising temperature. Indications portend to ideal winter weather for the next few days.

"Be a Good Man, My Dear."

Almost the last words which Sir Walter spoke to Lockhart, his biographer, were: "Be a good man, my dear," and with the last flicker of breath on his dying lips, he sighed a farewell to his family and passed away blessing them.—William Makepeace Thackeray.

To Preserve Historic Battle-Ship. Nelson's flagship Victory, almost the last relic of the great naval wars, is to be re-rigged, repainted and as nearly as possible restored to the condition in which she gloriously led the port column of the British fleet into battle at Trafalgar.

Stage "Pirates."

Visiting "stars" should not be allowed to escape from Australia untaxed. The rich spoil which they are taking away belongs in great part of right to our own artists—the singers and painters who keep the flame of beauty burning amid hardship, privation, and neglect. The visiting "stars" should be heavily taxed and the proceeds applied by government to Australian art schools and scholarships.—Table Talk, Melbourne.

The British Press.

Not a little world wisdom lies in the conduct of the British press. Its managers do not let their instincts for news run away with their appreciation of how things said in heat look in cold print to the world abroad. They do not furnish arrows for the quivers of their foreign critics.—Boston Transcript.

Friday and Saturday, and Saturday matinee, Jan. 29 and 30, "The Witching Hour."

This is an unusually brilliant list of attractions, every one of them being first-class. Interurban cars will leave after the performance each night for Paris.

The Rat Must Go.

"The rat must go." This is the slogan of a campaign for the protection of health and property that is being waged the world over.

In the United States, England and Germany the rat annually damages property to the extent of $310,000,000. Sir James Crichton Browne, president of a recently formed international union of scientific organizations working together for the extermination of rats, declares that every rat in the United States costs the citizens at least 2 cents a day for its board. And there are millions of rats; each female increasing the rat population some fifty or more a year.

The rat is eternally hungry and in the average home, barn or store, he inflicts serious property damage in a short time, while with the farmer entire crops are destroyed, poultry houses made desolate and fruits and vegetables ruined.

THEATRICAL.

"THE FLAMING ARROW."

Lincoln J. Carter's border drama, "The Flaming Arrow," will play an engagement of one night at the Paris Grand on Monday, Jan. 25. It is said to possess the true western melodramatic flavor depending for its success upon its brisk action, exciting climaxes and stage mounting, together with an adroitness of dramatic conception and an excellent plot. An exciting four horse race is the feature of the first act. Interest is increased in the second act by a realistic council fire pow-wow and ghost dance by the Indians of the company. The third act contains a number of humorous specialties including a brass band. The company is said to be one of the largest that will appear at the local theatre this season, numbering some thirty people. Much care has been given the piece and an excellent mounting above the Carter standard is promised.

"THE WOLF."

The big event for local theatregoers will be the presentation at the Paris Grand in the near future of Eugene Walter's great play, "The Wolf," under the direction of Sam and Lee Shuberts. This play, by reason of its great triumph in New York for ten weeks and more recently in Chicago for twelve weeks, is too well known to make it necessary to give a lengthy description of the plot or the numerous pathetic scenes which are so cleverly mingled in such a manner that the audience neither gets too boisterous nor too near the verge of tears. "The Wolf" is said to be a remarkable for the attention which has been given to detail in the settings and accessories, giving the play a peculiarly realistic atmosphere.

"THE SHEPHERD KING."

Tonight, Wednesday afternoon and night the attraction at the Lexington Opera House will be Wm. A. Brady's elaborate production of "The Shepherd King," with Wright Lorimer as David. This romantic biblical drama in four acts and five scenes is based upon the biblical story of David from the time he left his father's flocks at Bethlehem and became King of Israel at the death of Saul. Throughout the play runs the beautiful thread of love romance which has for its background all the more human motives that exemplify the ideal hero of fiction and makes "The Shepherd King" one of the most fascinating entertainments that will be offered there this season. Seats are now on sale.

A Terrible Roast for Teddy.

Characterizing President Roosevelt as a gargoyle and as "This pigmy descendant of Dutch trades people," and charging him with having "Established a court in the White House which would have delighted the heart of his admired Alexander Hamilton." Mr. Willet, of New York, in the House of Representatives yesterday made one of the most bitter attacks on the chief executive ever heard in that body.
